WASHINGTON CITY.

Further Large Reduction of the Debt.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The public debt is reduced $9,266,295 for the month of August. Coin balance, $9,813,691. Currency balance, $7,968,345. Coin certificates, $10,738,000.

Matters Considered in the Cabinet.

At the Cabinet meeting to-day all the members were present except Secretary Boutwell and Postmaster General Creswell. The latter was represented by First Assistant Postmaster General Marshall. The most important matter considered was the condition of the South, especially the disaffection and reported acts of unlawful violence in certain counties of North Carolina. A long letter on this subject, addressed to the President by Senator Scott, Chairman of the Congressional Ku Klux Committee, having been read for the information of the Cabinet, it was determined to enforce the laws, and as a preliminary the letter of Scott and other papers were referred to the Attorney General, who will report upon the law applicable to the case, when a proclamation will be issued by the President and afterwards embraced in a general order to the War Department. Meanwhile that Department will mature measures considered to be necessary in that connection. It is probable another Cabinet meeting will be held next week to take final action on the subject. Three reports from Admiral Rogers were laid before them by Secretary Robeson. United States vessels will not renew the attack on the people of that country, but will await the result of the British expedition. It is thought that ultimately the United States, Great Britain and the North German Confederation may form an alliance against Corea.

Selection of counsel for our arbitrator at Geneva, under the treaty of Washington, has been made, but his name will be officially withheld till it be known that he will accept.

The President left Washington to-night for Long Branch, and will resume his residence here about the 1st of October.

EASTERN STATES.

New York Politics.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Many prominent Republicans here are already speculating upon the course of the forthcoming Republican State Convention on the questions affecting national politics. It is recommended that the State Convention make an issue on municipal reform, and not raise the issue for the next Presidential candidate.

The Evening Post thinks many Republicans will refuse to vote the Republican ticket, and honest Democrats, who are willing to support municipal reform, will be repelled; and further, that it is not necessary to assume that if Gen. Grant's renomination is not recommended, the State is opposed to him. The question of the Presidency simply has nothing to do with the contest. It will be easy enough to nominate candidates for President after the present canvass is over.

Muttering Against the Tammany Thieves.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The Fourteenth Ward German Democratic Committee, at its meeting last night, indorsed the action of the German General Committee demanding an investigation of the administration of the city government. Similar action was taken by another German Democratic organization in the Sixteenth Ward. At another German Democratic meeting, last evening, measures were discussed for consolidating the German vote at the approaching election.

At a meeting of the leaders of the Democratic Union party, held last evening, Congressman Roosevelt presiding, it was decided to give the political reform meeting to be held next week Democratic aid, and to offer to attend the meeting. Several prominent Democrats are announced as speakers.

The Prospect in Ohio.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Secretary Delano, on Tuesday, will return to Ohio for a few days. He thinks the Republicans will carry the State by 20,000.

The Boston Railway Disaster.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—At the Revere railway accident inquest yesterday it was brought out in testimony that employes of the road are by order of the President required to sign a document waiving all rights to damages if injured on the road through negligence of the Company or carelessness of its people. Passengers when they buy their tickets find notices on them stating that they agree that the Company is not responsible for personal injuries or loss of their baggage.

Senator Clayton of Arkansas Arrested.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 1.—Senator Clayton arrived here last night, and was arrested by the United States Marshal on a charge of issuing a certificate of election to General Edwards, as a member of Congress from this district, in violation of the enforcement Act of Congress. The Senator gave bail for his appearance at the October term of the Federal Court. [Edwards is a Democrat, and Clayton's arrest seems to have been brought about by Republican factionists.—ED. OREGONIAN.]

Yellow Fever at Charleston Abating.

CHARLESTON (S. C.), Sept. 1.—The cool weather seems to have had a favorable influence in abating the fever. No new cases were reported, and only one death.

Heavy Damages.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Judge Blatchford to-day ordered a decree in favor of R. A. Tilghman of Philadelphia against Holland Mitchell, for $229,000, for infringement of his acid and glycerine patent—the largest decree for infringement ever granted here.

NOVA SCOTIA.

The Halifax Regatta.

HALIFAX, Sept. 1.—Six boats started this morning in the single scull race. The course was three and two fifths miles. At the signal to make ready, Saddler, Bagna, Coulter, Reilly, Brown and Lovett took up positions, and at the word go all got off, well together except Reilly, who made a poor beginning and lost about a length. Before half the course was rowed, over the contest was narrowed down to a struggle between Saddler and Brown. After a splendid finish Saddler won by about a length and a half. Time, twenty-five minutes and three seconds. Brown's rowing astonished even his friends, and had the race been longer it is thought his chances would have been excellent.

ST. JOHNS, N. B., Sept. 2.—The Taylor-Winship Crew have offered to make a match with the Paris Crew for £500 a side, to be rowed in Springfield, Mass., in October, provided the St. Johns men pay the Englishmen £500 expenses. The St. Johns crews are willing to make the match, but won't pay their opponents' expenses.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

French Affairs.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—It is expected that the sentences of Communists, tried by court martial, will be pronounced to-morrow morning.

Thiers's ent to the Assembly to-day his first message since the prolongation of his powers. He thanks the Assembly for its expression of confidence, and repeats his protestations of devotion to the country, and hopes to succeed in the rehabilitation of France.

Relations of the Great Powers.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—The Cross Gazette says that it was agreed at Gastein that Prussia should make representations to Russia calculated to lead to a restoration of good understanding between Russia and Austria.

Thiers and the Presidency.

VERSAILLES, Sept. 2.—The acceptance of Thiers' Presidency by the Assembly is not because the Assembly is content with him on his own terms, or afraid of his resignation, but because they could get no one else to take his place. The Duke de Aumales' final refusal determined the Right to vote for the bill. McMahon, Changarnier and President Greevey were all asked, but all refused. Greevey declared himself more of a Republican than Thiers, and others said they were unwilling to become a pretext for disorder.

The Anniversary of Sedan.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—The anniversary of the surrender of the Emperor Napoleon and the French army at Sedan was celebrated throughout Germany to-day by festivities of a patriotic character.

English Affairs.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A boiler exploded on board a bark at Cardiff yesterday, and the captain and engineer were blown overboard and drowned.

The number of emigrants who sailed from Liverpool during the month of August was 4,000 greater than for the same month of any previous year.

Right Honorable Sir Alexander Cockburn was gazetted to-day as the British member of the Board of Arbitration, which is to meet at Geneva under the treaty of Washington.

Miscellaneous European News.

DUBLIN, Sept. 2.—Amnesty meetings will be held in Phoenix Park to-morrow (Sunday), and from present indications they will be monster demonstrations of the people of Dublin in favor of the pardon of imprisoned Fenians.

MADRID, Sept. 2.—Advices from the French frontier state that the Carlists are ordered to report to their leaders on the 8th inst., and be ready for a rising against the government of King Amadeus on the 10th.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Arno, bound for Copenhagen, has been wrecked and all on board lost.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

News by the China Steamer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—The steamship Alaska, 36 days from Hongkong, and 26 from Yokohama has arrived. She appeared to have suffered some mishap as she came very slowly up the bay, and listed over heavily on one side. She has 54,685 packages of tea, 2,827 silk, and 1,066 of merchandise.

Japanese news unimportant. Quiet prevails throughout the Empire.

An authoritative letter from the Corean Government to the Captain of the U. S. steamer Wachusett, when he went up the river to inquire about the crew of the ship General Sherman, but which was delayed a few hours, and the steamer did not wait to receive, has been published at Shanghae. The letter is of the most pacific and friendly character, and had not a few hours delay occurred no bloodshed would have taken place. The letter bears date of the 18th; and though hitherto unpublished, is evidently genuine.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—The steamer Capital is being overhauled, refitted and provided with bath rooms for the convenience of the overland passengers, and will be placed on the Vallejo line, as soon as ready.

The Bell Ringers' Republican nominations, made this evening, were as follows: Dr. Dinsmore, Mayor; J. C. Collins, Assessor; Maj. Jack Stratman, Sheriff; Holloway, County Clerk. A weaker ticket could not be made.

NEVADA.

Accidental Death—Dead Body Found.

EVANSTON, Sept. 1.—James Mann, an employe of the C. P. R. R. at Cisco, fell from the top of the round house to the turn table, killing him instantly.

RENO, Sept. 1.—The body of Joe Honey was found on the bank of the Truckee river, in an advanced state of decomposition. No marks of violence.

THE TERRITORIES.

During the month of August the land disposed of at the Vancouver Land Office amounted to 7,229 acres.

Some sheep growers from Solano county (Cal.) are at Puget Sound looking for a place to establish a farm for 10,000 sheep.

It is now said that the Snoqualmie Pass summit can be crossed at an elevation of 2,000 feet above tide water. A grade of 80 feet to the mile will be necessary to overcome this elevation.

Lake Washington, near Seattle, which it is proposed to connect with the Sound by a canal, to provide a naval station, is 181 feet above tide water. One result to follow the cutting of the canal will be to furnish an immense and unfailing water power.

Col. C. H. Larrabee has bought the Seattle Dispatch. Beriah Brown is its editor. In taking leave of partisan journalism he hints strongly that the Democratic party has now no principles, that it wages a contest merely for spoils, and he has no sympathy with anything of the kind.

From the Seattle Dispatch: The surveys made by General Alexander and his party of U. S. Engineers, of Lakes Washington and Union, and of a line to connect these lakes by canal with the harbor of this city, have proved the entire feasibility of the project. Gen. Alexander pronounces the site for a naval station as the very best in the world, combining as it does ample anchorage, fresh water, exhaustless supplies of ship timber, and within easy reach, the extensive Seattle coal fields, and the beds of iron ore lying on the west side of Snoqualmie Pass.

Capt. Throckmorton of the Coast Survey is now at Puget Sound. He will erect a temporary observatory there and connect his instruments with the overland telegraph in order to be in communication with the observatory at San Francisco and also at Washington. Some splendid repeating instruments have just been placed in the telegraph office at this city (Portland), in order to facilitate these observations. Under this system the messages go through on the instant, the machine here repeating them, and enabling exact calculations to be made.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Lee county, which the ex-rebels of the Kentucky Legislature named in honor of Robert E. Lee, was carried by the Republicans at the late election.

A close figurer on political campaigns has cast the Gubernatorial horoscope in California, and finds that with San Francisco and Sacramento counties a "stand-off," Booth will carry the State with 1,300 to spare.

Forney says the Democratic party is composed of two classes, "organized ignorance" in the north, and "organized ingratitude" at the south. For a short, terse, and expressive description of the Democratic party, we have seen nothing which approaches Forney's definition.

With more of its talk about waiting patiently till the South can demand $3,000,000,000 for its "confiscated slaves," the Richmond Whig renews its advice, that the Southern Democrats should not send delegates to the next Democratic National Convention. It says: "By taking part in that Convention we become parties to, and bound by, all its resolutions, which may lead to discord among ourselves, and at the same time prove a burden and embarrassment to the Northern party we would aid. By abstaining from participating, we shall continue free to act as circumstances may dictate, and neither be compromised ourselves or compromise others. If we afterward co-operate with either of the Northern parties, we do so on the principle of supporting lesser evils."

The Staats Zeitung, the leading German Democratic paper of New York, continues to excoriate the Tammany Thieves. It says: Messrs. Hall and Connolly have deceived the New Yorkers as often and for so long a time in regard to the promised accounts, that, by degrees, the hope of seeing this document produced in the desired form becomes very slight. These gentlemen, by this hesitation to fulfil an indispensable duty, which is as clear as the rays of the sun, brand themselves. As matters stand, unfortunately, by ordinary legal means, it is impossible to effect anything against them, and in this way one of the most perceptible defects in our Charter becomes apparent. Never has the will of the people been more impudently set at defiance than in this case.

Two citizens of Cincinnati have given $1,000 each toward a $100,000 fund for the erection of a monument to the memory of the pioneers of Hamilton county, Ohio.

Local Insurance Company.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Sir:—In my communication of the 29th, referring to the subject of home insurance, I closed with the advice to all concerned to fully canvass the matter, so we could all fully understand the subject before we gave it our endorsement.

I now propose to lay the subject before your readers, basing my remarks on the report of Geo. W. Mowe, Esq., Insurance Commissioner for the State of California, and such other data as I have been able to collect on the subject.

It will be remembered by the business men of this city that some five or six years ago a number of our leading capitalists and merchants organized or met for the purpose of so organizing a home insurance company. That the institution would have been a success had the same been carried out, there can be no doubt, as I am informed that our people subscribed liberally toward the stock, but that the projectors of the present enterprise did all in their power to prevent the carrying out of the same, by representing that it would not pay. Then it was a case of "Tweedledum," now it is a case of "Tweedledee." Then the lowest rate of insurance was from 1 to 1½ per cent; now it is down to 25 and 40 hundredths of 1 per cent. Now how in the name of plurality can they come forward now and ask people to invest in a paying institution at the present low rates, when but a few years since they represented that it would not pay at more than double the amount they could now receive? There must be a big cat in the meal tub somewhere which I for one would like to see explained, especially as the amount of insurance carried at the time referred to was as great if not greater than at the present time.

Now, how is it proposed to start this local Company at the present time? And on what basis, let us see. For the credit of our State we should look to it so that it be established on a sound, solid basis beyond the peradventure of a failure, with a good, solid cash capital of at least $250,000, which could easily be subscribed and not on personal paper capital, which the old Scotch bankers call "kite flying," and which in reality is doubtful capital for policy holders to invest in.

The proposition as I understand it is simply this: That our citizens subscribe the enormous sum of $80,000 toward the capital stock of the Home Mutual Insurance Company of San Francisco, pay twenty five per cent down and the balance, seventy-five per cent in "personal paper," so that, with the small amount of $20,000 cash they can run the business of this State which would amount to millions, and in case of an extensive conflagration (as in Portland, Maine, for instance), what would poor policy holders—allowing that all the paper capital was fully paid—have to depend on for indemnity? This is the question that concerns us all more or less, and is sufficient food for all good business men to reflect on. Again our citizens are told that they can try the arrangement for six months and if it does not pay they can withdraw. Of course they can take their stock in the market and sell it, providing any person would purchase stock with seventy-five per cent of indebtedness hanging over it. The Home Mutual would have our money to do business with in our own State, while we, as I view it, would in reality have no security at all in case of a large conflagration.

Commissioner Mowe, in his report for 1870, page 3, states as follows:

"On the nineteenth of May, 1870, the Home Mutual Insurance Company gave notice to this office that it had discontinued the issuance of new policies and the renewal of policies already issued, and 'surrendered' the certificate of 'authority' by virtue of which it had transacted business. Subsequently evidence was furnished, showing that the company had re-insured all its outstanding risks, and had provided by deposit of money for all liabilities for losses, expenses, &c.

"On the 27th day of October, 1870, the company filed a statement of its affairs and made application for authority to resume the transaction of business. Accordingly, Messrs. Joseph S. Paxton and James M. Shotwell were appointed Commissioners to examine and report upon the securities belonging to said company, and a thorough examination having been made of its affairs, a certificate was issued to the company November 9th, 1870, authorizing it to transact the business of Fire and Marine Insurance again, in their sworn statement to Commissioner Mowe."

"Page 110 et seq.) they make the following exhibit:

Capital	$1,000,000 00
Capital Stock subscribed	603,500 00
Amount Capital Stock paid up in cash	120,720 00

Thus it will be seen that in the whole State of California the sum of one hundred and twenty thousand dollars has been all the money that could be raised as cash for the purpose of conducting the business of the company, the balance being paper capital and unsold stock. If Oregon desire a Home Company, which I most heartily endorse, I think we can more than double the amount in the coffers of the Home Mutual and conduct our own business on a legitimate basis without having to call in the aid of California to show us how to do it.

By all means, give us a Home Company. Keep it before the people until we get one, but let it be, as I have before stated, on a sound basis, and a purely local institution.

PERSONAL NOTES.

C. H. Lockwood of the Dalles, with W. H. Farrar of Washington, has a contract for furnishing granite for the new State Department at Washington City.

A man named Parker, is in jail at Dallas for stealing blankets from the Ellendale Woolen Mill Company, broke jail the other night and fled, taking with him three and a half pairs of blankets belonging to the county. He is still ahead on blankets.

The Honorable J. F. Amis, he who attempted to eternalize his name last year by legislating the Chinaman's tail off his head, writes two columns to the Democratic newspaper at Eugene on the swamp land question. The active mind of your Democratic statesman is always producing something brilliant. This essay on swamp lands is comparable to nothing but his elaborate speech on Chinese pig tail.

Ex-Senator Williams recently franked some copies of one of his speeches to different parts of the State. Whereat the Eugene Guard goes off in spasms of indignation, asserts that Judge Williams in franking those documents after the expiration of his term as Senator has "violated the United States postal laws, and were he some ten-cent merchant he would be notified to appear in short order at Deady's United States slaughter house." "Talk of honesty," exclaims the Guard, "when the Judge thinks he has all the Postmasters in Oregon under his thumb, and the Postal Agent as well. We presume Pinebrake is a Radical Senator for life." Now, what a spasm this blessed innocent has worked himself into. He doesn't know that by law the franking privilege lasts one year after the expiration of the term of the Senator or Congressman. The Democratic gun has gone off again at half-cock, and somebody has made a donkey of himself.

A Breakup in New York.

Robert B. Roosevelt, of New York, is a Democratic Congressman for one of the Districts of that city, and is also editor of a brilliant Democratic paper called the Citizen, once edited by the noted Halpine, (Miles O'Reilly). Mr. Roosevelt, the telegraph states, is taking a leading part in organizing a reform movement in the Democratic party against the thieves of Tammany. He sees breakers ahead, and says in the Citizen that "as matters stand at present, Democracy is almost sure of defeat in 1872." In elaborating on the causes of this state of things he says that the "new departure," Tammany rottenness and the anti-Orange riots have produced their effect in the country, where they have dug the grave of the Democracy and will bury it in the approaching Presidential election.

The movement among the German Democrats of New York, also reported by telegraph to-day, is significant, and seems to be thorough and general. Just now throughout the Union there is a positive tendency of the German element toward the Republican party. There is reason for it. The attitude of the Democrats of this country towards Germany in her late war with France, the riots in New York, and the movements in Germany for national consolidation and separation of Church and State,—both of which last named movements the Republican party of this country sympathize with—are causes which naturally incline intelligent Germans throughout the United States to the Republican party. In California the effect is very obvious,—the Democratic candidates having but little German support. All Germans believe in a consolidated Union for the Fatherland; all Republicans here believe in a consolidated Union for the United States. There is a perfect similarity of political principles; hence the general movement among the Germans of the United States toward the Republican party.

But we were talking of New York and of the Democratic authority in regard to the state of affairs existing there. Pomeroy's Democrat exhorts the Democrats of the United States in this way: "Look at New York! One hundred and one millions of dollars in debt? And what have the people to show for it? A steam yacht! An Americus club house! A race track! A supreme court owned by the Erie railway, with Hon. George Barnard, toll keeper! A palace for lying, slippery Dick Connolly, the comptroller, who went into office so poor that he could not qualify in $1,000, who is now a millionaire. A fortune of $10,000,000 for Peter Bismarck Sweeney, who was a poor man when first appointed city chamberlain. A palace for Hon. William M. Tweed, the likeliest man in the lot, who has only made twenty-five millions of dollars out of the city, by honesty and economy, in ten years. A fortune of seven millions for A. Oakey Hall, the popinjay mayor, who squawks when his masters pull the strings, and pockets his percentage of the plunder, while angling for the nomination for Governor. Six thousand harlots and nineteen hundred dens of infamy supported directly from city stealings. These are a few of the exhibits for this enormous debt which must be paid or repudiated. If the present managers of Tammany can manage to secure the nomination of their man for the Presidency, and then see him elected, there will be inaugurated the grandest administration of theft, corruption, prodigacy, extravagance, and crime this country ever witnessed."

And it may be added that if a Democrat is elected he will be a Tammany man. As Speaker Blaine said in his speech at Saratoga the other day, without the aid and leadership of Tammany it would be impossible for the Democrats to carry the State of New York, and without the State of New York their chances in the Presidential contest of 1872 are not worth reckoning.

The Origin of Democratic Errors.

Our neighbor who sticks to Jefferson's pestilent dogmas of State sovereignty, secession, and ... disintegration, appears to be quite shocked to find anybody should have the temerity to question the wisdom of anything Jefferson did. It therefore reprints a paragraph from the OREGONIAN on Jefferson, in which we stated that, "all the trouble this country has ever known came from Jefferson's things"—a statement as true as any self-evident proposition can be—and dwells at much length on the fact that any person should have the audacity to talk so. Its position is substantially this: Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence; therefore he is an infallible political authority. Let us add, however, that he also wrote the resolutions of '98, the Democratic book of rebellion, which produced secession and the terrible war we have passed through. The seceders, as we said the other day, "attempted to break up the Union avowedly on Jefferson's principles, and made no pretense to any other justification." This is the unimpeachable truth of history. The accepted truths of the Declaration of Independence have not availed to counteract the false dogmas of Jefferson afterwards originated. He was an ... to the present Constitution at the time of its formation. Disliking the "consolidated Union" which Washington and others had created, he began a series of insidious attacks upon its integrity, drew up the resolutions of '98, which, in their effect, as ... abundantly proved by experience, are subversive of our National Government, and laid the foundation of the controversy between State and National authority, which has been the principal source of all our national troubles. Washington foresaw the results of Jefferson's dogmas and denounced them, but the people did not fully understand their pernicious and destructive tendency and character till the country was plunged, through them, into the abyss of secession and civil war. But now the people understand, and hence it is, as we said before, that they "no longer regard Jefferson as an oracle on the nature and powers of the Government."

The Herald says that the OREGONIAN "confesses" that the custodian of the public funds at Olympia "permitted certain parties to make use of a portion of them for purposes of speculation." The OREGONIAN made no such "confession." It simply said it was reported that the custodian of the public funds at that place had done this. Does the Herald, under its new management, think misrepresentation of this kind consistent with fairness and courtesy? Oregon editors do not think so.

Mr. C. P. Ferry, of the Real Estate firm of Parrish, Ferry & Woodward, intends to start, soon, on a business visit to the Eastern States. He wishes to procure a full collection of specimen Oregon products to take with him for exhibition.

National Finances.

Another splendid exhibit of debt reduction is given in the August statement, published to-day. Figures that speak so eloquently and conclusively cannot be gainsayed or rebutted.

The recent magnificent success of the new loan is another fact which speaks with the force of convincing eloquence. It opens the way, it is confidently believed, to the successful funding of the whole debt within two years at a reduced rate of interest. Owing to the reduction of the debt and the success of the recent funding scheme we shall pay next year $32,000,000 less interest than we paid in 1866. For the fiscal year which closed on the 30th June last, we paid less interest by $22,000,000 than in the year immediately following the close of the war. The New York Tribune is enthusiastic over the present financial prospect, saying: "Mr. Boutwell has succeeded in funding his first two hundred millions, in spite of Tory hostility in Europe and Copperhead malignity at home. And now, if he will withdraw all the loans at present authorized except the four per cent. and obtain from Congress power to sell one thousand to fifteen hundred millions of that, having thirty, forty or fifty years to run, at not more than six per cent. below par, we are confident that he may save enough in interest to pay off the entire debt, including the discount on his bonds, within the next forty years."

A long loan, say forty or fifty years is now recommended by the best financiers for the bulk of the debt. It is admitted on all sides that such a loan would be taken at a lower rate than one having a shorter period to run. The debt, it is believed, can be funded at such a rate that the aggregate interest charge will not exceed $85,000,000 a year. The charge for pensions will for some time exceed $30,000,000 a year. Other expenses of the Government may be estimated at $140,000,000 per annum, making the sum of $255,000,000 as the whole amount of revenue to be raised for current expenses. Then $25,000,000 a year might be set apart as a sinking fund, which would bring the aggregate up to $280,000,000. At present it is about $365,000,000, showing that taxes can yet be reduced by the further amount of $85,000,000 per annum. This reduction will probably be made within a year from this time.

A financial prospect so fair is really marvellous, when we consider what the condition of the debt, and of our finances generally, was six years ago. Then our debt, including bonds, State claims, bounties, etc, exceeded three thousand millions of dollars. Nearly one thousand millions have been paid, the interest on a large part of the balance is reduced, and the prospect is that a reduction of the interest on the remainder of this, will soon be effected. So much for Republican fidelity in the management of the national finances.

REMARKABLE CURE OF MRS. HOOVER.

TUALATIN PLAINS, WASHINGTON CO., OREGON, July 22, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA—I have been troubled with Rheumatism for the past twelve years; my joints, especially those of my feet and hands, were badly swollen, so that I could with difficulty go around. My shoulder pained me a great deal and a LARGE BONY SWELLING grew out, so that I could not raise my hand to my head.

Since last spring I have been taking your "Unk Weed Remedy," and find myself much improved. The swelling and pain has left my joints and shoulder and THE BONY GROWTH HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED and I use my limbs and am far better than I have been for years.

Gen. James S. Negley, M. C., Pittsburg, Pa., writes Nov. 10, '70: I have no hesitation in recommending the "Averill Chemical Paints" to those who regard economy and durability. It weathers our smoky atmosphere better than any Paints I have tested. The colors are rich and variable. Altogether I find them the CHEAPEST AND BEST."

H. H. PEARSON,

Late of the Russ House,

HAVING BOUGHT THE INTEREST OF MESSRS. Tobbs & Patten, of the Cosmopolitan Hotel, has secured a lease for a term of years of this well known and elegantly furnished Hotel. The prices will range from two to three dollars a day for ordinary accommodation. Board by the week or month as per contract. The Table will be kept on the most liberal scale and many improvements introduced. PETROLEUM FLUID

Perfectly FREE from the Danger of Explosion.

THIS FLUID, AFTER YEARS OF PATIENT EXperiment, and the expenditure of over one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, has been produced by R. F. DANFORTH, of Cleveland, Ohio, and has been introduced with perfect success.

A gallon of it will burn as long with the same height of blaze as Kerosene.

CITY.

EPISCOPAL CONVOCATION.—The annual convocation of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Oregon, which has just been held at this city, was attended by clergymen, as follows: The Rev. B. Wistar Morris, D. D., Revs. Bonnell of Salem; Burton, of Portland; Hyland, of Port Townsend; Hyland, of Astoria; Nicholson of Vancouver; Rosenberg, of Portland; Selwood of Oregon City; Somers, of Seattle; J. Selwood of Milwaukie; J. R. W. Selwood, of Milwaukie, and Wells, of Walla Walla. Lay delegates present, as follows: Judge Deady, of Trinity, Portland; Judge Wait, of St. Stephen's, Portland; S. Ellsworth, of Eugene City, and others. After evening service the Bishop read his annual address, which told of much work done, and mapped out more to be done. On Friday evening the business meeting of the convocation was called to order by Bishop Morris. This meeting adjourned at 12 M., to meet again at 3 P. M., when more business of interest to the church was noted upon. At 8 P. M. a most instructive sermon was delivered by Rov. G. A. Bonnell, of Salem. A missionary address was made by the Rev. Geo. Burton, of Portland, and the Bishop asked for the sympathy, prayers, and liberal offerings of the people for the mission at Walla Walla. Saturday morning and afternoon, business meetings were held, which were attended by the clergy and lay delegates from some of the parishes. Steps were taken for further organizing the work of the church in all its branches. The convocation passed a vote of thanks to the people of Portland and the vestry of Trinity church for favors received, and adjourned sine die.

DROWNED.—Isodor, a son, ten years old, of I. Mitchell, grocer on First street, was drowned yesterday in the Wallamet river at the foot of Yamhill street. The little fellow was fishing from the wharf when, by some unexplained means, he fell overboard. The accident having been discovered, immediate efforts were made to rescue him, but without success till after life had become extinct. The unfortunate fall occurred about half past twelve o'clock, and the body was not recovered till about one o'clock. When it was drawn up by grappling hooks the hands ... clutched upon the handle of an old basket which had apparently been stuck fast in the mud at the bottom, from which it would seem that he sank at once, and that in his wild struggles he caught the basket and held on while he drowned ... ever rising to the surface after the first ... An inquest was held upon the body by Coroner T. J. Dryer. We are indebted to Constable ... son for the following copy of the jury's verdict: "We, the jury summoned to examine the body of the deceased, agree that the deceased came to his death by drowning in the Wallamet River, Multnomah county, Oregon. Signed: Chas. ... Keubn, Foreman, W. F. Cornell, J. W. Kaye, M. Mask, T. Yacobson, D. Jacobi."

UPPER WALLAMET RIVER IMPROVEMENT.—Capt. Kellogg, of the P. T. Co. informs us that the dredger attached to the Success, which was put at work last Monday under the superintendence of Maj. Robert, answered very ... expectation. A few hours dredging upon the bar at the mouth of the Yamhill river and at Mathena's bar were sufficient in each case to enable boats to pass without detention or difficulty. After ... the latter bar, the steamer proceeded up the river to work upon some of the bad places toward Albany. The scoop or scraper works with all the efficiency that could be desired. It is attached to the bow of the boat, which is run as far upon the bar as may be desired, when the scoop is let down allowing it to drag as the boat backs down. With the aid of the current, an immense load of gravel is thus carried at ... trip, down into the deep water below the bar. It cannot, of course, be known till after another flood whether the channels thus made, will fill again, but it is believed they will remain open for several years, at all events.

MAN KILLED BY A FALLING TREE.—Thursday, August 31, a man named James Spinner was instantly killed by a falling tree at the logging camp of Kemp & Broadbury, Beaver Creek, Columbia county, nearly opposite Oak Point. The tree fell upon one end of a tilting log, and the opposite end tilting up, struck the unfortunate ... crushing the skull. ... Point state that the deceased went ... logging camp from this city, August 14th, ... among his effects were found a letter dated ... Station, June 7th, signed by M... ton ... which seemed to be a recommendation ... Post of the Grand Army of the Republic ... a letter from his father, W... Spinner, dated at Eureka, July 2d, and a letter dated at San Francisco, June 12th, signed "Your Mother." ... desiring information may address E. W. Conyers, Oak Point, W. T.

THE WALLAMET STEAMBOAT LINE.—Rumors have been afloat for several days to the effect that the P. T. Co. is about to sell its line of steamboats. We have reliable information that an offer has been made to the Company for its entire transportation property, and that the meeting of the stockholders called for this week, has reference to that proposition. It is believed that a majority of the stockholders favor the acceptance of the offer. Meantime the operations of the Company, except the running of the Senator between Portland and Oregon City, have been suspended. The new steamer the Alice, ... built at Oregon City, is all ready for service, but will not be brought out till after the meeting of the stockholders. Our information states ... the offer to buy comes from Mr. Holladay.

PASSENGERS FOR CALIFORNIA.—The N. P. T. Co.'s steamship Idaho sailed yesterday morning for San Francisco, with the subjoined list of passengers: N. D. Geff, M. C. Nye, W. H. Cokefair, P. Benchly, H. Bu...inger, H. C. Linton, J. M. Baker, Henry Ayers, Captain B. F. Smith, A. Goldsmith and wife, G. M. Baird, U. S. N., ... Crossman, M. Whitman, L. Johnson, J. Erns, Miss Nellie Cor..land, James C. Flowerdew, Van Fridagh, James Homaks and wife, T. M. Bowen and wife, C. Rub... and daughter, E. Baker and son, C. Lamon, J. Pike, A. B. Hewlett, Breyman, C. S. Shotwell, Charles Montgomery, B. A. Fellows, A. L. Ellsworth, and 25 in the steerage.

AUTHORITATIVE DENIAL.—A few days since an item was copied from a Boise paper into the OREGONIAN and other papers, stating that Miss Annie Pixley had been married with Mr. Ned Campbell, the manager of the Pixley Dramatic Troupe. We have a note from Miss Annie, herself, dated at Walla Walla, August 30th, denying the truth of the statement and requesting us to say that the report was utterly unfounded. With pleasure we make for her, the denial.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—Saturday evening as Mr. R. Perkins and family were en route from this city to their home, a few miles distant, the team, driven by Mr. Perkins took fright and ran away. All hands were thrown out of the wagon and some of them received severe injuries. One of the horses was, also, badly hurt, and the wagon broken to pieces. The injured parties were brought back to the city for treatment.

ELECTION OF ASSISTANT ENGINEER.—At the meeting of the Board of Delegates last Saturday evening, the office of First Assistant Engineer of the Fire Department—Jacob Koenig, incumbent—was declared vacant. In consequence of this action, Holland Gwynne, Second Assistant, became, by virtue of law, First Assistant. O... Burnheim of No. 3 was elected to fill the position of Second Assistant.

FIREMEN'S GUESTS RECEIVED.—The delegations of Firemen from Astoria and the Dalles were each received upon their arrival, Saturday afternoon, by delegations from our several companies, and escorted to the St. Charles Hotel, where all joined in a collation ordered by our boys.

FOR CHINA AGAIN.—The bark Edward James, owned by Mr. Walter Moffett of this city, is now en route from San Francisco to Puget Sound. Upon the completion of this voyage, she will load with lumber, and sail for China, under charter.

OREGON PATENTS.—During the week ending August 23, patents were issued to Oregon inventors as follows: Car-coupling—Perry W. Davis, Portland. Sash-holder—Thomas Jennings M... Carver, Oregon City.

REAL ESTATE SALE AT AUCTION.—On Saturday Mr. A. B. Richardson sold at auction, lot 5 block 86, Couch's Addition, for $600; and lot 6 block 120, Coffin's tract, for $1,025.

ARRIVED FROM CHINA.—The four-mast bark Hattie O. Besse arrived from Hongkong ... o'clock Saturday night. She is moored at the foot of Yamhill street.

We have reliable information that an offer has been made to the Company for its entire transportation property, and that the meeting of the stockholders called for this week, has reference to that proposition. It is believed that a majority of the stockholders favor the acceptance of the offer. Meantime all operations of the Company, except the running of the Senator between Portland and Oregon City, have been suspended. The new steamer, the Alice, just built at Oregon City, is all ready for service, but will not be brought out till after the meeting of the stockholders. Our informant states that the offer to buy comes from Mr. Holladay.

PASSENGERS FOR CALIFORNIA.—The N. P. T. Co.'s steamship Idaho sailed yesterday morning for San Francisco, with the subjoined list of passengers: N O Goff, M C Nye, W H Cockefair, S P Beachly, H Businger, M C Luzerd, J M Baker, Henry Ayers, Captain B F Smith, A Goldsmith and wife, G M Baird, U S N, Crossman, Mrs Whitman, L Johnson, J Erna, Miss Nellie Coville, James G Flowerdew, Van Bridagh, James Hemaka and wife, T M Bowen and wife, C Rublo and daughter, E Baker and son, C Lamon, J F Pike, A R Howlett, Breyman, C S Shotwell, Charles Montgomery, R A Fellows, A L Ellsworth, and 25 in the steerage.

AUTHORITATIVE DENIAL.—A few days since an item was copied from a Boise paper into the OREGONIAN and other papers, stating that Miss Annie Pixley had been married with Mr. Ned Campbell, the manager of the Pixley Dramatic Troupe. We have a note from Miss Annie, herself, dated at Walla Walla, August 30th denying the truth of the statement and requesting us to say that the report was utterly unfounded. With pleasure, we make for her, the denial.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—Saturday evening as Mr. R. Perkins and family were en route from this city to their home, a few miles distant, the team, driven by Mr. Perkins took fright and ran away. All hands were thrown out of the wagon and some of them received severe injuries. One of the horses was, also, badly hurt, and the wagon broken to pieces. The injured parties were brought back to the city for treatment.

ELECTION OF ASSISTANT ENGINEER.—At the meeting of the Board of Delegates last Saturday evening, the office of First Assistant Engineer of the Fire Department—Jacob Koenig, incumbent—was declared vacant. In consequence of this action, Holland Gwynne, Second Assistant, became, by virtue of law, First Assistant. S. Burnheim of No. 3 was elected to fill the position of Second Assistant.

FIREMEN'S GUESTS RECEIVED.—The delegations of Firemen from Astoria and the Dalles, were each received upon their arrival, Saturday afternoon, by delegations from our several companies, and escorted to the St. Charles Hotel, where all joined in a collation ordered by our boys.

PUGET SOUND, ETC.

OBSERVATIONS OF A THREE WEEKS' TRIP.

It is the fashion now-a-days for editorial institutions, when they take a turn out into the world, to make their types prate of their goings and comings; their sayings and hearings; of the whereabouts they went, and whence they came; what they did and what was done unto them; what they saw, how, when, where, and what came of it. Ye local editor of this paper has lately had the good fortune, through the liberality of sundry men of steamboats, stage coaches and steamships, who came out handsomely with complimentary passes (sometimes, by vulgar people, called "dead-head tickets"), to make a tour through regions which, it is possible, may have been discovered by various other travelers before him, but which, in part, never before came within the range of his own individual eyesight. We suppose these regions must have been where we found them many years; for, not only do they present evidences of their own, of mature age, but there is some unquestionable authority that they were known and inhabited in a certain sort of way, even before George Francis Train, or Jeemes Pipes of Pipesville, or Joseph Bowers, set foot upon Pacific soil. There are in many places settlers who do not have the faintest recollection of the time when the first inhabitant came down, nor of how far he came down. A noble red man of venerable mein (and a mean look out of his eyes), whom we met on the banks of the "finest body of water in the world," assured us on the honor of an Indian, that, though he had lived so long, he couldn't remember the day of the month on which he was born, Puget Sound and Mt. Rainier, and Mt. Adams, and the clams were there when he arrived, very much as he and we, on that day saw them. And that Indian who declared that he had such a respect for the memory of his father as would induce him to forego clams for twenty-four consecutive hours rather than to bring the veracity of his departed progenitor into disrepute, averred, with every appearance of believing it himself, that his father had often told his "good little boy" that the country was there when he came. We implicitly believed every word of it. The country is still there to vouch for the story and to confound all doubters and such as may come now to claim the right of discovery. For the proof of this, we call upon Bro. Ireland of the Bulletin, who made the tour with us, to vouch. And now, to satisfy anybody who may want to know why we write about regions whose existence is so well established, we reply only that we write because the regions are there; if they weren't, we wouldn't.

The things that happened upon this tour, happened mostly while we were traveling; that is to say, after we started and before we got back. We are, however, convinced that a good many things happened before we started. They or their effects were there, to attest the fact, and we couldn't dispute them. Nevertheless, we shall mention some of them, all the same. The course of our excursion was by way of Monticello and the stage road to Olympia; thence by steamboat North Pacific first to Steilacoom and back; afterward to Seattle; thence by Gussie Telfair to Olympia, then down the Sound to Port Townsend and Bellingham Bay; thence through the Gulf of Georgia to Nanaimo; thence via the Haro straits to Victoria; thence by sea to the Columbia river and Portland. This round embraces in its calls all the important points on Puget Sound, and the two principal shipping points of British Columbia.

OF THE STAGE ROAD.

The road from Monticello to Olympia, over the Cowlitz mountain, used to enjoy the reputation of being positively, comparatively, and superlatively, the worst road ever traveled, save only the left-hand fork of the road over Jordan traveled exclusively by such as had through tickets to the Devil. The coaches were a degree worse than the road. Of the horses travelers never knew much, as never an entire horse was seen above ground. The present proprietors of the stage line, Messrs. Coggan & Co., have, however, greatly redeemed the road, and in doing so have relieved the traveling public in a great degree of the disagreeable necessity of investing new and terrible terms of profanity with which to adequately damn each lineal inch of corduroy, stump and root road, and each perpendicular inch of the depths profound of the boundless and bottomless mudholes. They have cut down the timber which for years and years have prevented the road from receiving a ray of drying sunshine; they have made new grades and improved bad old ones; have constructed new bridges; and where corduroy is a necessity they have so smothed down its rough ways as to relieve the traveler of the necessity of going iron-clad. The effect of all this upon the physical comfort and the spiritual nature of a passenger, as compared with the olden time, is such as to gratify the philanthropist, delight the missionary and to render the passenger thankful beyond the ordinary means of expression. We do not mean to say that riding over the Monticello and Olympia road is exactly a heavenly exercise, but it is so much better than it was only a few years ago; that, really, the passenger who tried it then and tries it now, would be unreasonable to a degree if he were to complain. The proprietors keep almost constantly a force of hands on the road making further improvements. By the present schedule, the stages leave Monticello about 1 o'clock P. M., daily, and arrive at Pumphrey's about sundown. Passengers get supper here, and lodge till 3 o'clock A. M. next day when they go on without breakfast, fourteen miles, to McDonald's. Some of the roughest road on the whole trip is encountered on this stage, and the effect upon the breakfastless traveler is not precisely that which is needed to fill the kingdom of Heaven. From Skookum Chuck to Olympia the road is quite level and smooth, dust being the chief inconvenience. Stages ordinarily arrive at Olympia between 5 and 6 o'clock P. M.

OF THE COUNTRY ALONG THE ROUTE.

The spirit of improvement has not marched to any great extent through the country between the Columbia and Puget Sound. The traveler finds but few farms or houses which might not have been seen five or six years ago. The meadows have the same stumps and clumps of trees and bushes which stood in them then. The owners have had ample time to clear them out, but having neglected to do it, the philosophic mind searches in vain for a reason, unless it be that the proprietors have chosen not to destroy, further than was absolutely necessary, the picturesqueness of the state of nature in which they were originally discovered. There are a few settlers who seem to have notions of stuck up-ativeness, as manifested in clean fields, upright fences, orchards, white cottages, ornamental shrubbery, flowers, etc.; but these are the exceptions and not the rule. Along the contemplated route of the Northern Pacific Railroad, there are a few evidences of an intention on the part of desperately brave men to tackle the wilderness and subdue it. In the course of years they will doubtless make an impression susceptible of estimate. The little village of Tumwater is the first place we see which exhibits noteworthy growth. It has now quite a number of neat, handsome residences and several business places, beside the mills. A substantial bridge spans the arm of the inlet, making more direct communication with Olympia.

THE CAPITAL, OLYMPIA,

has grown considerably within the last few years, but is now in a decided state of suspended animation, all on account of the impossibility of solving the great Puget Sound conundrum, "Where is to be the terminus?" The older settlers have branched out a little, believing that the importance of the capital city could not be utterly ignored by the railroad builders, and that if they should not at last get the terminus of the main trunk, they must at least be the terminal city of a branch road. There are at Olympia considerable numbers of Oregonians, who have gone there in hopes of being struck by terminal lightning, and who are now staying there in hopes to get the news of the location by telegraph, half a second sooner than if they were at any point down the Sound. They are all going to the terminus as soon as they can find it, and many of the old residents talk of doing the same thing. Olympia, simply as a town, is a beautiful place, regular in its plan, with streets sufficiently wide and bordered almost everywhere with rows of beautiful shade trees, many handsome and a few costly residences, surrounded with tastefully arranged grounds. Business is very quiet, and so are the streets, and the bay, and so are the people; but the latter are among the most pleasant, companionable, and hospitable folks we ever had the good fortune to meet. Business or no business, terminous or no terminous, they are bound to have their share of the enjoyments of this life, and they find it in excursions, picnics, parties, clubs, clam-bakes and social communions of various other sorts too numerous to mention. Olympia has too many newspapers—four weeklies and one daily—yet there is a project to establish another daily and weekly, larger than any of the others. How they all can live is another conundrum, too much for solution by any of the uninitiated. Being the Capital of the Territory, it is naturally the headquarters of politicians who, having little else to do, amuse themselves by dividing into numerous and incomprehensible rings or factions, and roundly abusing one another, calling each other pet names, and each believing his own ring or faction to be the salt of "the party." The "other fellows" are men of that degree of vileness and rottenness, having such nefarious and malicious designs upon "the party" as make it the imperative duty of our ring, which is "the party," and all other good men, to rise up against them (the "other fellows") and smite them hip and thigh—in plain briefness, as we often heard it expressed, to "give the d—d scoundrels hell." In spite of this peculiarity of the politicians, however, Olympia is one of the most thoroughly pleasant little burgs on the Sound. When not engaged in giving "the d—d scoundrels hell," the politicians themselves are as jovial and companionable a lot as could be met with in a month's journey.

STEILACOOM

was several years ago one of the most prosperous and pretentious places on the Sound, but its principal supports were one after another withdrawn, and the town gradually but surely fell into decay. It is now but the shadow of its former self. It, however, has a little business which it transacts in a quiet way, and then for the rest of the time dozes, also in a quiet way. The residents believe that the town is about through its valley of shadows, and that it is about ready to begin to "pick up" a little. There are one or two pretty good vessels owned here. A joint stock company built a woolen mill, a couple of years ago, and got it pretty near ready to run, but it was never started. The company got in debt and into a tangle of some sort among themselves, and the mill and tangle were finally taken possession of by the sheriff. The town has, ever since, been, periodically excited over reports that somebody had bought it or was about to buy it, who would start the machinery. Such a report was rife when we were there. Steilacoom has two other new supports now. The insane asylum at the old garrison is now in full operation, though with but a small stock of insane on hand. Should the terminus conundrum, however, continue unsettled for a couple of years, the stock will be augmented quite as much as could be desired, by even the most enthusiastic stockholder in the institution. Hill Harmon is the contractor to keep the patients, and the accommodations for them are excellent. Dr. Hemenway, formerly of Oregon and an army surgeon, has been appointed physician for the Asylum. The place is every way creditable to the Territory. On the other side, Steilacoom has in prospect the territorial penitentiary—to be built on McNeil's Island—a contract for which was recently let to a Mr. Sprague; one of the late German immigrants from Chicago. With these two institutions, one on either side, the Steilacoomers would seem to be entirely justified in their expectations that their village is about to begin to "pick up." The penitentiary in front and the asylum at the back, they "pays their money and they takes their choice." Steilacoom, though a quiet place for business, has a hotel—kept by Mr. W. S. Wiggins—which we found to be one of the best we discovered on the Sound. There are several Oregonians at Steilacoom, also, waiting for the terminus to turn up, among them H. L. and Thos. Chapman, sons of Col. W. W. Chapman, of this city.

Still Onward and Upward.
The extraordinary increase that has taken place in the sale of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters during the past year, is another proof that an intelligent people, although they may try all things, hold fast only to that which is good. No amount of puffery can lift inferior articles to the position of standard specifics. To use the words of Tom Paine, they may go up like a rocket, but are sure to come down ignominiously like its extinguished stick. Hundreds of such nostrums have gone up and come down since the introduction of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, nearly the fifth of a century ago. It has not and never has had a rival in efficacy or popularity, and now stands at the head of all proprietary remedies manufactured on this side of the Atlantic. In every civilized community on this continent, or in South America, it is the accepted remedy for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, constipation, general debility, nervous weakness, and many other unpleasant or dangerous maladies. A medicine so widely extended is of course pirated and imitated by dealers without conscience or integrity.
Therefore, let every man and woman who designs to purchase genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, see to it that they have what they pay for, and not the results of an infamous imposture. Look carefully at label, stamp and name blown in the glass, and do not forget that the true bitters is sold in bottles only.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

CURRENT NOTES.

Miss Amanda Harris, a young lady in Columbus, Ohio, fell dead of heart disease a few evenings since, while conversing at the gate of her father's residence with a young man to whom she was about to be married.

General Fitzhugh Lee, William B. Taliaferro and James L. Kemper, have published a card urging an immediate organization of the survivors of the rebel army of Northern Virginia, that they may raise funds for the lodge proposed, monument to Robert E. Lee.

Los Angeles, California, again reports a heavy shower of meat. About this time last year, says the Virginia (Nevada) Enterprise a similar shower fell in Los Nietos, with these differences: then it was raw, now it is said to be "boiled." Then the blades of the standing corn were "drenched with blood," now they are moistened with a kind of homeopathic soup.

The quiet breakfast of a family in Lowell, Massachusetts was rudely interrupted a few mornings ago by the laundress, who bolted into the room with the exclamation, "An' sure, Missis, I thought I'd come and tell yez that I couldn't wash for ye this mornin', as me boy is sick with the small-pox and the black measles in the man's hat." She was allowed to depart without further apology or explanation.

A Nevada man, anxious to marry a young lady of his acquaintance, learned that her sister was about to marry, and without her knowledge procured a marriage license [illegible] herself [illegible] upon her, and that [illegible] the excitement of her sister's marriage she would consent to follow [illegible]. The idea was a brilliant one, but the attempt to carry it into execution was a woful failure.

The Lassen Sage Brush reports that the surveying party who have just arrived from the country lying north of Big Valley and the tributaries of Pitt river, say there are millions of acres of the finest land in the world in that vicinity and that there will be at least 2,000 people in that country [illegible] seeking permanent homes. They also report two or three swamp land sharks in the vicinity, seeking to gobble up good lands from the honest settlers, and in due course of time to charge them six prices for their homes.

CHEAP HAPPINESS.—A wealthy epicure applied to an [illegible] for a prescription that would restore his body to health, and give happiness to his mind. The physician advised him to exchange shirts with a [illegible] who was perfectly contented with his lot. [illegible] the patient [illegible] in pursuit of such a [illegible] months spent without [illegible] he was told of a certain party of whom every one had spoken as a [illegible] of contentment and happiness. [illegible] the discovery [illegible] the traveler was at length rewarded with the sight of the cobbler enjoying a comfortable nap on a bench. Without ceremony he was aroused from his slumbers, and important interrogatory, whether he was contented with his lot, was answered in the affirmative.

"Then," said the seeker after happiness, "I have one small boon to ask at your hands. It is that you exchange shirts with me, that by this means I, too, may become contented and happy."

"Most gladly would I accede to your [illegible]," replied the cobbler, "but—"

"Nay, refuse me not," interrupted the man of wealth; "any sum that thou mayst name shall be thine."

"I seek not wealth," said the cobbler, "but—"

"But what?"

"The [illegible] is, I have no shirt."

PLEASURE OF INTELLECT.—The more any object is apprehended, the more delightful it is. There is more delight in the tragical representation of those things which in reality would be sights full of amazement and horror. The tickling of [illegible] are more delightful than the touch [illegible]. How does poetry insinuate and turn about the minds of men. Anacreon might take more delight in one of his [illegible] than in one of his cups. Sappho might take more complacency in one of her verses than in her practices. The more [illegible] the more mental [illegible], the purer and choicer it is. It is the observation not only of Aristotle, but of every one else, "Some things delight merely because of their novelty," and that surely upon this account, because the mind, which is the spring of joy, is more fixed and intense upon such things. The [illegible] that pleases more than the blown rose.

POWER OF WORDS.—'Tis a strange mystery, [illegible] of words! [illegible] is in them and [illegible] that send the crimson color hurrying to the cheek, [illegible] with many meanings, or can turn the current cold and deadly to the heart. Anger and fear are in them, grief and joy are in their sound; yet slight impalpable, a word is but a breath of passing air.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

SATURDAY EVENING, September 2, 1871.

Gold in New York, 112½.

Currency, buying, 88½; selling, 89½.

The regular monthly collections were characterized by great ease considering the time of year—farmers busy harvesting, and consequently, coin remittances coming in sparingly.

We are justified in saying that the Fire Insurance Company has much of the capital stock subscribed that its early organization is placed beyond a doubt. This speaks well for our business men, as it is another step forward in our rapid progress. That the citizens of Oregon will sustain the Company, we have no doubt of.

The following [illegible] are on the way from Newport, Wales, with railroad iron for the Oregon & California Railroad, and also for the Oregon Central Railroad. They come consigned to Hewett, Flowerdew & Co: Bark Alice Graham, 117 days out, bk Sparkling Dew, 103 days out, bk Burrington, 76 days out, bk Alder Gasse; [illegible]

The steamer Oneonta brought down the largest load of wheat this evening that has ever been brought at one [illegible] the Cascades. She brought 1,050 centals besides several hundred sacks of flour.

Oregon woolen fabrics have a reputation second to none [illegible] superior to those of California. We were shown last fall letters from Victoria, Vancouver Island, containing orders for cassimeres, etc., from one of our woolen mills, in which the writer claimed that the cassimeres manufactured by our woolen mill were superior to those obtained in England, when taking into consideration the relative cost of the two—as the Oregon manufactured cloth could [illegible] duty paid, [illegible] the English. One cause of the superiority of our manufactured goods [illegible] that the wool is [illegible] and healthier than that of California, which gives to our manufactured goods more durability. The papers in San Francisco have, on several occasions, [illegible] goods exposed for sale in that market. Some of the leading commercial papers in New York have spoken in very flattering language of samples and also of invoices forwarded to that market, raising the goods at once in the market there so as to cause them to command the highest market ruling. We have, through the courtesy of Messrs. L. White & Co., one of the agents for Oregon, and R. Jacobs, managing agent of the Oregon City Manufacturing Company, been placed in possession of the following relative to that Company. The Company was organized in April, 1864, with a capital stock of $50,000, and commenced operation in July, 1865, with three sets machinery. The success attending the undertaking caused the Company to increase their capital to $100,000, and in 1866 they added three more sets of machinery. In May, of 1871, they added another set of machinery so as to supply the increased demand for its fabric. The annual consumption of wool amounts to 500,000 lbs. They employ an average of 91 hands. They manufacture from 40,000 to 45,000 yards every month, consisting in the main of cassimeres, tweeds, flannels, blankets, etc, for all of which they have no difficulty in finding a market at the highest ruling rates. In 1869 the Mechanics' Fair in San Francisco awarded them the first premium for the best cassimere cloth manufactured on the coast, and from all we can learn through the papers published in San Francisco, they are likely to obtain the first premium this year. The original company sold out to the present company, who have succeeded in placing it upon a solid financial basis independent of manufacturing woolen goods, that are sought for by all. We expected to present a statement of the Salem Woolen Mills in this number, but it has not come to hand yet.
